

GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF WEBSITE USE

KO-DAM d.o.o., Gajeva ulica 18, 1235 Radomlje, Europe, Slovenia, tax number 14226766, registration number 5829542000 (hereinafter: the provider), is the owner and administrator of the website www.psihoterapija-logoterapija.si (hereinafter: the Website).

Access to the Website and its use are permitted under the conditions set out in these general terms of use (hereinafter: the Terms), the applicable legislation of the Republic of Slovenia, and other relevant regulations. By using the Website, the user confirms that they agree to and accept these Terms.

The Website is intended to present educational programs, professional content, and the activities of the academy in the field of psychotherapy and related disciplines. The purpose of the published content is primarily informative and supportive and does not constitute a substitute for personal professional or therapeutic treatment.

Users may submit inquiries regarding educational programs or other activities via online forms. Such inquiries represent only an expression of interest and do not create any legal or financial obligations. A contractual relationship is established only on the basis of a further agreement and explicit confirmation of participation under the conditions defined for a specific program.

The provider strives to ensure professional quality, thoughtful program design, and a respectful and safe learning environment. Within this framework, the provider reserves the right to adjust programs, content, schedules, or instructors when necessary due to professional development, organizational reasons, or unforeseen circumstances. Interested individuals will be informed in a timely manner of any significant changes.

The specifics of educational activities may also include the implementation of a teaching clinic, where certain therapeutic activities are carried out as part of the learning process. This form of work is intended for the professional development of participants and takes place in a supervised and ethically grounded environment. It is a didactic process and does not replace individual psychotherapeutic treatment.

Within education and communication processes, special attention is given to the protection of confidentiality, personal dignity, and the creation of a safe environment for learning and the exchange of experiences. Information shared by participants during the educational process or obtained within the teaching clinic is treated as confidential and is not disclosed to unauthorized third parties.

By using the Website, users agree to act responsibly, respectfully, and in accordance with applicable legislation. The use of the Website in a manner that could harm the provider, other users, or third parties is prohibited, particularly through the submission of false or misleading information.

The provider strives to ensure the accuracy and up-to-date nature of the information; however, it cannot guarantee its completeness or error-free nature. The provider shall be liable for any damage resulting from the use of the Website or reliance on the published information only to the extent required by applicable law or in cases of intentional misconduct or gross negligence.

Despite efforts to ensure the smooth operation of the Website, temporary disruptions or unavailability may occur beyond the provider's control. The provider is also not liable for failure to fulfill or delays in fulfilling obligations when these are due to circumstances beyond its reasonable control, such as natural disasters, system failures, or other forms of force majeure.

All content on the Website is protected by copyright and other intellectual property rights. Its use is permitted solely for personal and non-commercial purposes, while any other use requires prior written consent of the provider.

The Website may also include links to other online resources. These are intended to supplement information and improve the user experience, but the provider is not responsible for their content.

The Website uses strictly necessary cookies for its operation, while other types of cookies are used only based on the user's prior consent.

The provider is available to users for questions, clarifications, or feedback via email at info\(@\)ko-dam.siko-dam.si) and strives to maintain open, respectful, and professional communication.

These Terms may be amended or supplemented from time to time, with such changes becoming effective upon publication on the Website.

These Terms are governed by the laws of the Republic of Slovenia. In the event of disputes, the competent court in the Republic of Slovenia shall have jurisdiction. In accordance with the law, the provider does not recognize any out-of-court consumer dispute resolution body as competent; however, users may use the European online dispute resolution platform available at <https://ec.europa.eu/consumer>.
